

SUPREME WAR COUNCIL WILL GUIDE PRESIDENT'S REPLY TO GERMAN NOTE

No Armistice Will Even Be Considered Until Enemy Evacuates All Invaded Territory—Decision May Be Left to Foch to Deal With Germans.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 22.—The prevailing belief here tonight is that any action President Wilson may take as a result of the new German note will await and largely be guided by a decision of the supreme war council in France. Shrewd diplomatic observers and some officials take this view, tho no intimation of his own attitude has come from the president, because admittedly the one question immediately at issue is a military problem—that of the evacuation of invaded territory by the German armies as the only condition upon which the plea for an armistice even will be given consideration. The Germans now are evacuating Belgium and northern France as rapidly as they can move before the sweep of the allied and American soldiers and still maintain their organization. Since the government at Berlin say they want to get out without further fighting, apparently the issue is one for the allied war council to determine—whether it shall be suggested thru President Wilson that General Foch be applied to for terms, or whether without further diplomatic parley the approach of a white flag from the German lines shall be awaited.

Official Note Will Be Delivered Today
The official text of the German note reached the Swiss legation here by cable early today but it was not delivered at the state department because the entire day was spent at the legation on the tedious task of decoding the document and preparing an English translation of the German text. The translation was made with the greatest care by Frederick Oederlin, the Swiss charge because there are obscure phrases in the unofficial version received yesterday by wireless which may be cleared up by a more accurate rendering of the German. When the charge's work was done Secretary Lansing had left his office and an engagement was made for delivery of the note at 10 o'clock tomorrow. This incident in itself was pointed to later as evidence that exchanges between London, Paris and Washington have been proceeding since the arrival of the wireless version and that pending word from the war council of what the military situation demands the president is in no hurry to know the exact verbal differences between the official and unofficial texts.

Big Conference to Convene
There also were reports that any action might wait upon a diplomatic conference about to convene in one of the allied capitals, but these found no official confirmation. The usual Tuesday cabinet meeting was in session all afternoon and it was assumed that the German note's reply to the future such things as the German denials of cruelties and ruthless destruction and doubts as to the genuineness of the self-proclaimed Democratic regime at Berlin.

Are Germans Whipped?
Whatever form any further diplomatic exchanges may take, one official pointed out tonight after all there is but one question, "are the Germans whipped?" If they are whipped and ready to surrender when attempts at bargaining have failed the surrender will come quickly enough, as quickly as the men who say they have surrendered the Kaiser and the war lords in power are to let the truth sink home upon the German public. Some diplomatic reports support the theory that they are restricted from revealing the real situation abruptly and taking peace at any price only from fear of more than a political revolution. Notes approaching gradually by the German public the news in broken doses and at the same time to take every possible chance of finding a loophole in American and allied harmony with the hope of avoiding ultimately throwing the German nation upon the mercy of its enemies.

New York, Oct. 22.—A message describing famine conditions in Russia as "appalling critical" and urging that all possible co-operation be given the Red Cross in supplying food was received tonight from Dr. George A. Simmons, Methodist missionary at Petrograd.

"Send food for Petrograd children via Denmark immediately," read the message. "The moral effect of such work would result in increasing Russia's sympathy and esteem for America."

MILLIONS FOR NEW SHIPS ASKED BY THE NAVY

Plans for New Three-Year Building Program Disclosed

WASHINGTON, Oct. 22.—Congress has been asked by the navy department to authorize a second three-year naval building program to provide ten additional super-dreadnaughts, six battle cruisers and 140 smaller vessels at a cost of $600,000,000. This was disclosed tonight by Secretary Daniels after his appearance before the house naval committee to explain the appropriation.

This authorization is asked for the fiscal year 1919 and is in addition to the 156 naval vessels comprising the first three-year building program authorized in 1916 and the great number of new destroyers and others speedily contracted for since the United States entered the war. Work on the first three-year program was delayed by the war, but congress has required that a start must be made before the end of the year.

Including the $600,000,000 for the three-year program, Secretary Daniels said, the total estimates of the department for ship construction, including armor and armament, amount this year to $972,000,000. Only $200,000,000 of the $600,000,000 will be made available next year for construction work on the three-year program in addition to $372,000,000 is asked for completing vessels already authorized.

"The new program of 156 vessels," said Secretary Daniels, "prescribes specific numbers of battleships and battle cruisers only, there being ten battleships asked for and six battle cruisers. As regards smaller vessels, of all types, the number is simply asked that they be of types already approved and in existence or of new types which may develop during the life of the program."

"The new three-year program is a continuation of the policy adopted in 1916 of increasing the navy and contemplating its steady upbuilding and improvement in line with the policy adopted by this government and which has met with the entire approval of the American people of building up a navy strong enough to meet all requirements."

"This program, if authorized by congress, as I am confident it will, will give us sixteen capital ships that will be the equal of any afloat at the time they are built. The battleships and battle cruisers authorized in the first three-year program will be unexcelled by those of any other navy."

"The imperative necessity of turning out as rapidly as possible all the destroyers and other types of craft needed in the war against the submarine for the necessities of the navy, the navy authorities have always had in mind. The three-year program adopted in 1916 provided for ten battleships and six battle cruisers. Now we ask for as many more, to be built as those formerly authorized are completed and facilities become available."

"The total expenditure authorized for this new program is $600,000,000. The provision for the first year being a third of this $200,000,000. This is exclusive of estimates for emergency appropriations for new vessels to be built under war urgency, which total $140,000,000 and also of estimates for continuing and pushing the old program, the emergency construction of destroyers underway, etc."

"Including the $600,000,000 for which authorization is requested in the new three-year program the total estimates of the department for ship construction including armor and armament, amount this year to $972,000,000. The total amount I recommend for appropriation next year for ship construction that is for completing vessels already authorized and for new vessels is $572,000,000."

WAR SUMMARY

News of Activities On Various Battle Fronts in Summarized Form By Associated Press.

The fall of Valenciennes to Field Marshal Haig's forces is imminent. Despite the desperate resistance of the Germans, the British have entered the city on the west while to the north they have made a deep thrust into the great Ralsmes forest and are moving in the direction of Conde, near the angle of the Scheldt.

Valenciennes had been in uninterrupted French possession from 1677 until the onrush of the Germans early in the present war led them many miles into France. It is now about to be added to the rapidly growing list of towns, the redemption of which has brought rejoicing to the French people.

Altho the progress of the allied forces in Belgium and French Flanders has slowed up somewhat in the face of the stiffening of the lines of rearguards aiding the retreat, the German armies appear to be retreating in the face of the stiffening of the lines of rearguards aiding the retreat, the German armies appear to be retreating in the face of the stiffening of the lines of rearguards aiding the retreat.

Behind the Scheldt the Germans are massed in strength; their machine guns on the east bank are active and are receiving the support of artillery and trench mortars.

The French army has reached the Lys canal along their entire front and have captured a bridgehead with numbers of the enemy west of Meerendre.

An item of great interest appears in the latest announcement by the French war office concerning operations along the Aisne.

"The Czech-Slavs with us took the village of Terton. The French are still moving actively to the north of Laon and have now completed the occupation of Chalandry and Grandpuy. To the southwest of Ghent they are firmly established on the east bank of the Lys river, having made crossings at several points against which the enemy resisted with determination. Around Leirou, where the Americans are fighting with the British fourth army activity has diminished greatly. The same is true of the American sector northwest of Verdun where the chief activity of the enemy has been the shelling of the American lines with mustard and other gas shells and an air raid which came near to achieving the destruction of an American base hospital."

The German reply to President Wilson is still the subject of much comment, newspapers and public alike agreeing that Germany has by no means adequately met the desires of the president and the allied powers.

Official cognizance of the note was given by the United States government.

Meanwhile numerous German papers are calling upon the emperor to eliminate himself from the question and declaring that peace must not be delayed on account of the Hohenzollerns or for other reasons.

Winter, unusually late this year, has set in on the front in northern Russia and a prolonged lull is looked for in that territory.

PERSHING APPRECIATES WORK OF U. S. FARMERS
NEW YORK, Oct. 22.—General Pershing has sent a letter of appreciation to the farmers of America, who he says have not only supplied their quota of fighting men and fought largely in the front lines, but have increased crops both last year and this more than one thousand million bushels above normal production.

The letter addressed to Carl Vrooman, assistant secretary of agricultural and made public by the committee on public information says:

"Food is of vital necessity and from the day of our entry into the war, America's army of food producers have rendered invaluable service to the allied cause by supporting the soldiers at the front thru their devoted and splendidly successful work in the fields and furrows at home."

AWARD CONTRACTS FOR TOURING STEAMERS
WASHINGTON, Oct. 22.—Contracts were awarded today by the railroad administration for six towing steamers and forty steel barges for use on the Mississippi and Black Warrior Rivers. The total price was $6,170,000 and deliveries are to be begun two months after steel is received by the builders and to continue for twelve months after that time. Four of the steamers are to be of the tunnel screw type, 200 feet long and forty feet broad with a draft of six feet while the other two will be stern wheel vessels, 156 feet long 46 feet broad and with a draft of ten feet. The barges will have a carrying capacity of 2,000 tons each in eight feet of water. These are the first steamers and barges ordered by the railroad administration for the Mississippi-Black Warrior projects which are designed to relieve railroads of part of the carrying burden in the middle west and south.

Reports Show Improvement in "Flu" Situation

WASHINGTON, Oct. 22.—A slight improvement in the influenza situation over the country was indicated by reports received today by the public health service, but in many places the epidemic apparently has yet to reach its crest. In the far west and on the Pacific Coast the situation has not proved nearly as serious as it did in the east and south.

Continued abatement of the epidemic in army camps was reported today to the office of the surgeon general of the army. New cases during the 24-hours ending at noon today total 2,773 against 3,067 the day before while deaths decreased from 404 to 392. There was a slight increase in the number of pneumonia cases.

Army medical officers said influenza may now be said to be epidemic in only five camps the condition reports less than fifty new cases each day. The total cases since the disease became epidemic number 292,770 with 15,497 deaths.

In the east and south generally conditions among the civilian population are rapidly improving according to reports to the public health service. In the middle west and in the states bordering the Mississippi and Missouri rivers abatement of the disease also has been noted, altho many new cases still are being reported daily. In California 32,000 cases had been reported to yesterday. Oregon and Washington also report new cases and some deaths.

German Aviators Bomb American Field Hospitals

WITH THE AMERICAN ARMY NORTHWEST OF VERDUN, Oct. 22.—5:30 p. m.—(By The Associated Press)—In retaliation for the destruction wrought by American bombing planes within the enemy's lines recently, German aviators last night raided the American front and back areas in the largest force since the American offensive began on the Meuse and the Argonne. In addition to attacking the infantry the Germans bombed the region around Clemont, Montfaucon and Rarecourt.

Four bombs were dropped near the American hospital in the neighborhood of Rarecourt, one of the bombs tearing down an outbuilding. The glass ends of four former French barracks now used by the Americans as hospital wards were shattered.

A Red Cross nurse, Margery Sawyer of Buffalo, N. Y., was blown from her bed but was not injured. All the patients were taken to dugouts, none of them being injured. When the first bomb fell the hospital attendants gave their attention to their charges leading or carrying them to shelter. Rocks thrown up where this bomb struck broke the windows in the southern end of the building. Ten other bombs were planted in succession in a great semicircle from the most of the night German planes were heard many times passing over.

Fifteen American night fliers responded to alert signals when the Germans raided the front and back areas Monday night and searched for the enemy airmen up and down the lines. One American shot the tracer bullets of a German firing his machine gun at a supposed troop movement but he was unable to engage the enemy raider.

Washington, Oct. 22.—Because of their inefficiency from fifteen to twenty ship yards now building wooden ships for the Emergency Fleet corporation will not receive any additional contracts. Chairman Hurley of the shipping board said there would be no curtailment of the ship-building program, the step being taken to save material, labor and money.

As fast as the yards complete the ships now under construction the workmen will be sent to other plants. Mr. Hurley would not make public the names of the yards, nor did he indicate when the closing would begin.

SITUATION IMPROVING

Chicago, Oct. 22.—Hope for lifting within ten days of recent orders issued as a result of the influenza epidemic closing Chicago theatres and stopping all public meetings was expressed tonight by Dr. C. St. Clair Drake, state public health director.

The situation in Chicago and the northern section of the state was declared to be "improving altho the disease is still spreading downward."

SENATE WOULD LOWER SURTAXES ON INCOMES

Under Amendments Adopted to Revenue Bill

WASHINGTON, Oct. 22.—Surtax adopted by the house on individual net incomes below $100,000 would be lowered and those on incomes in excess of that amount increased under amendments to the war revenue bill adopted by the senate finance committee. A tax of one per cent would be levied on incomes between $5,000 and $6,000 with an additional one per cent surtax for each $2,000 in excess of that amount up to $100,000 when the rate would be 32 per cent. A grade scale is then fixed under which a surtax of 65 per cent would be levied on net incomes exceeding $1,000,000.

The change in income surtaxes was the second decided revision made in the house draft of the bill at today's session. The committee previously have voted to eliminate the alternative system of taxing corporations on profits in favor of a general rate of 80 per cent on war profits and a reduced tax on excess profits. The revision of income surtaxes members of the committee said will provide a more uniform rate while the reduction in revenue will amount to less than $25,000,000.

As revised by the senate committee income from $100,000 to $150,000 would pay a surtax of 52 per cent and those between $150,000 and $200,000 would be taxed 56 per cent. From $200,000 to $300,000 the rate would be sixty per cent; $300,000 to $500,000, sixty three per cent; $500,000 to $1,000,000, sixty five per cent. Compared to the house rate this would be an increase of six per cent for incomes between $100,000 and $200,000; eight per cent for those between $200,000 and $300,000; nine per cent for those between $300,000 and $500,000 and six per cent from that amount to $1,000,000. Under the house bill sixty per cent would be imposed on incomes between $100,000 and five million and 65 per cent on those above the latter amount. Of the $1,015,069,000 which the senate committee's amendment is expected to yield, it was estimated $700,045,000 would be paid by persons having incomes exceeding $100,000.

In order to protect small corporations under the war profits schedule the committee late today inserted an amendment providing that in no case shall the tax be more than thirty five per cent of the amount of the net income in excess of $3,000 and not in excess of $20,000 plus eighty per cent of the amount of the net income in excess of $20,000.

This amendment senators explained will prevent the taxes of small corporations running up to the eighty per cent limit.

APPELLATE COURT DECISIONS PUBLIC
SPRINGFIELD, Ill., Oct. 22.—The Appellate court of the third district of Illinois in a decision today affirmed the decree of the lower court which granted a divorce to Mabel Wright of Jacksonville from Oyer Wright, her husband, on a charge of adultery. Mrs. Wright named Fay Roberts as co-respondent.

Judgement for damages awarded to Thomas Walsh in his suit against the Central Illinois Service company in the circuit court of Morgan county was affirmed. Walsh was injured by a wire that extended across the street from one of the company's poles.

The court reversed the case of Georgia R. Montgomery against the Chicago and Alton railroad, appealed from Morgan county, and remanded. She was awarded a verdict of $3,000 for injuries supposed to have been sustained in a fall at the company's station at Jacksonville.

OFFICIALS WATCH FOR NEW ATTACK AGAINST ENEMY

Great Battle Expected In the Meuse Sector

WASHINGTON, Oct. 22.—Now that the Germans have been cleared out of Belgium-Flanders and much of Northern France, army officials here are watching the battle front intently, many of them with a distinct feeling that a new storm of attack may be about to break against the enemy. There was nothing tonight to indicate this expectancy was founded upon definite information and is probably grown out of a number of happenings of a minor character in themselves but possibly important links in chain of events soon to be disclosed. Beyond doubt the German retirement in Belgium has slowed down. It is not yet clear whether this is due to the fact that the retreating forces are moving on the whole northward from the line which frequently has been selected by military critics as the first pausing place on the way to the Meuse or the border or to the necessities of extending allied communication lines as the troops advance. There is little doubt here that the German army is headed for the short cut of the Meuse line and that any pause will be but temporary to permit readjustment of the columns and supply lines in order that the same orderly sequence of movements shall characterize subsequent retreats. Several halts of this character may be expected if this was the withdrawal project is carried out. The fact that the allied armies are hampered by extending communication lines gives opportunity for such halts before Marshal Foch's forces can come up in sufficient force to compel a resumption of the rearward movement.

The line surrendered by the enemy from Lille northward to the coast was far stronger and no longer that that he now stands upon in Belgium. In addition by the evacuation of the Flanders coast, he has furnished the allies with means of setting up new and more direct communication lines from England via Ostend, Zeebrugge, or other Flanders ports. Without question it is said these avenues of supplying the advancing armies already being opened to free the longer lines back in face of that burden, consequently officers cannot see any tactical advantage gained by the enemy unless he intends to fall back to the line of the Meuse.

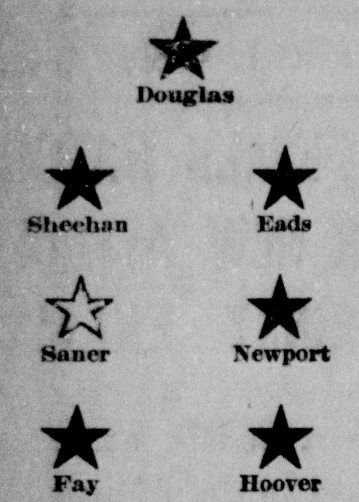

The first stage of the great retreat is almost complete. The German right flank has been swung back like a gate at the way from Soissons south of Valenciennes to the Dutch border. South of the pivot, however, there has been little change on the front from the Oise to the Meuse. It has been noted that heavy concentration of forces was made by the Germans on the LaCateau-Oise-Serre front and also against the American pressure northwest of Verdun. Without question the retention of these lines unbroken was vital to the German plan of action. Now that the withdrawal in the north has progressed so fully, however, it would cause no surprise here if a retirement between the Oise and the Sere was undertaken without delay to rectify the whole line. To many officers it seems so. Ahead of that new events have so shaped the lines that a great drive may be undertaken calculated to unsettle the whole German plan of retreat. Already the allied lines have been shortened so that considerable forces may be available for the work, particularly British.

The time can not be far away when the American second army, under Major General Bullard will be put into play. To some observers it seems possible that a wide attack may be made by the two American armies, both east and west of the Meuse, the thrust being aimed at the great rear artery passing thru Sedan and Montmedy. A co-ordinating French assault west of the Argonne would naturally be a part of such a thrust. To other officers, however, recent French raiding operations in Alsace seem to have significance. Apparently information is desired as to the quality of the troops there. Such raids invariably lead to offensive operations, altho they rarely disclose by their locality the exact place of the proposed attack.

It is not yet clear whether the German army is headed for the short cut of the Meuse line and that any pause will be but temporary to permit readjustment of the columns and supply lines in order that the same orderly sequence of movements shall characterize subsequent retreats. Several halts of this character may be expected if this was the withdrawal project is carried out. The fact that the allied armies are hampered by extending communication lines gives opportunity for such halts before Marshal Foch's forces can come up in sufficient force to compel a resumption of the rearward movement.

ESSENTIAL NEEDS.

Many causes with strong backing have found it impossible to break down the regulations that have been imposed by the war industries board to protect essential needs.

As chairman of the United War Work Campaign of Greater New York, which includes all the Jewish, Roman Catholic and Protestant organizations working for soldiers and sailors, J. D. Rockefeller, Jr., arranged with all the New York dailies to publish an eight-page supplement on Sunday, Nov. 10, regarding the work of the campaign, immediately preceding campaign week.

T. E. Donnelly, chairman of the pulp and paper section, declined to issue a priority order for necessary paper on the ground that a similar position was taken regarding Liberty Loan and Red Cross requests. Mr. Rockefeller asked for a reconsideration of this decision.

Mr. Baruch replied that he was unable to remove the obstructions.

ON WITH THE WAR.

Secretary Baker says: "We are going right ahead with the augmentation of the army and providing it with adequate supplies."

Secretary Lansing says: "The government will continue to send over 250,000 men with the supplies every month, and there will not be the slightest relaxation of any kind."

The French, British and Italian governments are prosecuting the war more vigorously if possible, than they were before Germany began to beg for mercy.

The armies in the field—ours and those of all our fighting allies—are pressing ahead as energetically as ever. Foch is still pursuing the Huns implacably and will continue doing so until they are defeated beyond any possibility of further menace.

Let every American do the same. War is mostly a matter of psychology. We fight it in the streets, in our offices and factories, on our farms, in our homes, just as surely as we do on the battlefields.

NOT SO BAD.

It is no credit to the Germans that some of the reports of destruction in the liberated cities in France are found to be magnified. It appears that the fires in St. Quentin and explosions in Cambrai proved upon investigation to be local. That they were not general is due, not to the Hun's change of heart but the hurry with which he had to leave.

After going thru a 40-mile strip of desolation, the French and British are now coming to what is called "the blue," that part of France and Belgium which has not been marred. The Germans had little opposition here four years ago consequently they did not level the villages. They are now going out so quickly that they have no time to destroy.

Indeed the retreat in Belgium is far quicker than was the westward flow of the terrible gray stream late in August 1914, after the Belgian forts had been overcome.

It was to the Germans' advantage to keep agriculture flourishing in the occupied parts of France and Belgium; the they stripped the factories and sent machinery back to the fatherland. The refugees, now returning, are in many instances finding their homes intact, but their means of livelihood gone.

The problems of rehabilitation are thus thrust early upon the Allies. This territory, which will never be invaded again, and it is essential that the refugees, soon to be settled again, shall be producing as quickly as possible, instead of continuing charges upon the Government.

STIMULATION OF WHEAT PRODUCTION.

J. H. Barnes, president of the food administration's grain corporation says there is no occasion for seeding additional fields to wheat. He believes the limit has been reached and that further stimulation of wheat production will be at the expense of other crops.

Sixty-five million acres were in wheat at harvest time this year, and next year's area promises to exceed that figure. To their anxiety to meet the government's demand for this grain, farmers have neglected fodder grains and the effect is felt in the stock raising and dairy industries. Later complaint is made because of the shortage of feed available for small dairy herds, the owners of which have no crop-producing acreage of their own.

It should be noted that the farmers of the country are in no wise responsible for the situation of which Mr. Barnes complains. In increasing their wheat acreage they responded to urgent appeals from representatives of government bureaus and agencies. In this section, particularly their planting of wheat from a disinterested desire to serve the nation.

What, under ordinary conditions, is a very uncertain crop in the central part of Illinois and the average is less than one paying crop in three seasons. Providence has given this territory two crops in succession, but heavy seeding hereabouts has been a big hazard, undertaken because the farmers were anxious to co-operate with Washington. Had there been no such incentive growers would not have risked so large a percentage of their acreage to wheat.

JACKSONVILLE'S PROSPERITY.

The prosperity of this city depends largely upon the prosperity and transportation facilities of the farming communities and towns around us. The development of agricultural and transportation in the territory around Jacksonville is vital to the city's future.

Other cities in Illinois similarly situated are awake to the situation and have spared no efforts in securing hard roads.

An extended hard road system is worth more to a town than a railroad. Hard roads will carry a continuously increasing traffic and commerce and extend widely the trade and distributing territory of a city. They will bring back to Jacksonville a considerable trade that has been diverted by the railroads to other places.

The Sixty Million Dollar Bond Issue for a State Wide system of hard roads to be voted upon on Nov. 5 offers Jacksonville an opportunity to get on the map again. It will provide her with the nucleus of a hard road system which can be completed in the near future. If adopted by the voters the 4,800 miles of roads therein provided will be paid for out of auto license fees collected by the State without one cent of taxation.

To secure this network of hard roads all over Illinois, the Little Road Improvement Ballot must receive a majority of all votes cast on Nov. 5. Apparently there is no opposition to the adoption of the Bond Issue. The automobile owners who must pay the bill seem to be unanimously in favor of building hard roads now instead of waiting many years. There is danger that voters will neglect voting for the bonds and carelessly allow the proposition to fail.

Vote YES on the Little Road Improvement Ballot, otherwise you will be counted as against building hard roads now at the expense of the autos.

Rippling Rhymes By Walt Mason

Wearily Willie,
It is the royal Teuton, and wearily he speaks, "I started all this shooting; hence tears upon my cheeks; oh, visions great and splendid my dreaming soul attended; I thought war would be ended with triumph, in six weeks. I thought my mighty legions would have a walk-away, and conquer all the regions that in their pathway lay; I thought 'twould be an outing, a touch of glee and shouting, and I could do some spouting to big crowds every day. I saw myself in glory upon a milk-white steed, while monarchs, whipped and gory, knelt in the dust to plead; four years I have been fighting—four years of war affrighting, and I find, at this writing, my dreams all gone to seed. The truth comes to me slowly—I have no chance to win; the truth is most unholly —Your Wilhelm is all in; and all around this planet wherever I may scan it, men's hearts are hard as granite, from hating me like sin. I have to take a whipping, the truth I realize, and my hands are red and dripping, and none will pity me; oh, none will sigh in sorrow "I am licked tomorrow, but will want to borrow a long rope and a tree. Was ever monarch hated as I am hated now? The crown is leaden weighted that rests upon my brow; the throne that once I treasured, the robes in which I pleasured, now bring me grief unmeasured—I'd trade them for a cow. For I am lone and friendless, aking without a chum; my loneliness is endless, for never friend will come; for all the world will hate me, detest me and berate me, until morticians crate me, when I am dead and dumb."

A THRILLING EXPERIENCE

Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Hacker arrived in the city yesterday from Concord. Mr. Hacker has just arrived home from Battle Creek, Mich., where he went to visit his son who is at Camp Custer near that place. The son's wife went along and they had a thrilling time. They were there two weeks and death stalked abroad in the camp at a great rate. They arrived Friday and by Monday there were 700 cases of influenza. The "Y" huts, K. C. huts and all possible buildings were utilized for hospital service and all possible was done for the sufferers.

His son was one of the first to be attacked and was very sick. Mr. Hacker was not permitted even to enter the hospital but managed by connivance of an orderly to get in once while the soldier was at his worst. Fortunately the invalid recovered and was on the high road to health when Mr. Hacker left. The son's wife remained to care for the invalid. A letter received yesterday stated that the disease was being checked. There were twelve new cases and 300 had been discharged from the hospital. Mr. Hacker is especially pronounced in his estimate of the work of the Y. M. C. A. whose members are everything to the boys at all times and especially when they are sick. The members were untiring in their efforts for the ill ones and won the everlasting gratitude of all connected with the work. Mr. Hacker said the sight of visiting relatives and friends was pitiful. There were hundreds of them from all parts of the land.

WILL PERMIT WAR WORK CAMPAIGN MEETINGS

State Council of Defense Rules That Campaign is Essential and Approves Holding of Meetings in Interest of Campaign.

Mayor H. J. Rodgers, who is in charge of the united war work campaign in this district, is in receipt of the following telegram permitting the holding of meetings in the interest of the campaign:

Chicago, Oct. 19, 1918.

H. J. Rodgers, Jacksonville, Ill.
The following opinion has today been received from the State Council of Defense:

"Referring to your request for information as to the attitude of the State Council of Defense toward the holding, by the united war work campaign committee, of outdoor meetings throughout the state, and also the small meetings of the local campaign committee, as in the various parts of the state, I beg to advise you that as the united war work campaign is held to be essential to the conduct of the war, the holding of such meetings as are described above are looked upon as necessary and the holding thereof meets with the approval of the State Council of Defense. In the cases of the small indoor meetings which you have advised me, will probably consist of but fifteen to twenty-five people, we would suggest and urge that such meetings be held in large well ventilated rooms where people can sit at some little distance from each other.

INFLUENZA CASES

The city health warden's office reported 46 new cases of influenza up to 4:30 o'clock Tuesday afternoon. This makes the total since the epidemic started of 528 cases. It is probable that a number of cases have been reported as recovered so that the total probably is not so great as would appear on the surface.

EMERGENCY HOSPITAL

All persons who have business with the emergency hospital are requested to make their inquiries and calls there, instead of at the rooms of the anti-tuberculosis clinic in the Morrison building. Supplies donated should be taken to the Morgan street entrance of the building. Telephone No. 1473 Illinois.

A DESIRABLE POSITION

FUNERALS

Headen.
Funeral services for Lee Otis Headen were held from the residence of Mrs. William Hopper on West Lafayette avenue, Tuesday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock in charge of the Rev. Myron L. Pontius, pastor of Central Christian church. Mrs. H. C. Wollman sang two solos. The flowers were cared for by Mrs. Arthur Acom, Mrs. C. H. Coe, Mrs. Sadie Large and Miss Margaret Jefferson. Burial was in Diamond Grove cemetery, the bearers being Arthur Acom, C. H. Coe, Bert Killam, Basil Sorrells, Thomas Coultas and Lon Sawtell.

Angelo.
Funeral services for Lee Roy Angelo were held at Jacksonville cemetery at 1:45 o'clock Tuesday afternoon in charge of the Rev. Myron L. Pontius. The bearers were: Edgar Tribble, Thomas Fanning, Clinton Stout, Allen Simms, William Willoughby and Earl Hester.

The funeral services of W. R. Cannon, who passed away in this city Monday, will be held from the home, 1033 North Main street this morning at 9 o'clock. The services will be in charge of Rev. Father Formaz, and interment will be made in Diamond Grove cemetery.

Ferreira Pio.
The funeral of the late Matthew Ferreira Pio was conducted yesterday at 2:30 o'clock at the undertaking parlors of William C. Cody, Rev. Mr. Morris, pastor of Northminster church, officiating in the presence of friends of the deceased. The remarks of Mr. Morris were very suitable to the occasion. He paid a just tribute to the fidelity of the deceased to his church and her services, regretting that he had not known more of him. He had been in this country some seven years and being of an industrious character he bought a small piece of land and made his home there alone, and went to work paying off the debt. He was doing well when death overtook him. The funeral was a strange land he was not alone for he had the fellowship of One who promised to be with His followers to the end and in His name the church takes the place of parents and attends to the last rites. Music was furnished by Mesdames J. A. Scott, Joseph M. DeFrates and Grace Ferreira.

At the conclusion of the services the remains were borne to Jacksonville cemetery by Messrs. Logan Black, J. M. Smith, John Ferreira, David and Emanuel Souza.

Hinman.
Funeral services for Arthur Hinman, well known in this city, were held at Newman Grove, Neb., Tuesday, October 15. The death of the young man occurred at Aberdeen, Maryland, Oct. 9, where he was stationed as a member of Co. B, Ordnance department. ### WITH THE COLORS

From W. E. Talbot.

Mrs. Lucy A. Talbot has received the following from her husband W. E. Talbot, Capt. Medical Corps, A. P. O. 715 A. E. F., France. The letter is on sheets with German abbreviations indicating that it had been intended for use by German soldiers. Somewhere in Germany.

Sept. 15, 1918.
My Dear Lucy:—
Have been unable to write regularly or have been on the move and busy and tired. Cannot write at night on account of having no lights. We have been fighting hard as you will have seen by the papers. I am still well and feeling fine.

I saw one of B. B. boys a few days ago. He saw me and was over to have a chat. I did not know him. There are a lot of the boys from B. B. near but I have not had the time to go to see them. We have been grinding away for several days and it is a big push I tell you. We have taken thousands of prisoners. I have attended to several wounded ones. Well, I do wish I could tell you more but you will have to be content with the few things I have to say.

I have not received a letter from anybody now for a long time. I have been moved again and that accounts for it. I am very sorry as I love to hear from you every few days. I am now right at the front line. We have a dressing station just a few hundred yards back of the front line. Well I will close now and try to get some sleep. I have not had a watch for a good while. I broke mine and tried two Boche watches but they were just like mine; they would not run.

Good Night.
Love and kindness galore,
Capt. W. E. Talbot, M. R. C., A. P. O. 715 A. E. F., France.

Sept. 16th.
Have been very busy for a few hours. Many have been at the dressing station. Just finished my laundry and got into my room when a shell tore up the back yard where I had been. Will write more before I mail this.

Sept. 17th.
Sent my horse back for I was a afraid he would get killed. But it has quieted down now and had him brought back. We have been in many fights now. And am still cheerful. The worst part of it is the eas which are hard to get up when we travel so fast. I know this will be hard to read but I can do no better. I am too jumpy to write. It has been hot and sultry today. I presume it will rain. We have had a good deal of rain in the last three weeks. I did not hear from you since you were at Pittsfield. I hope you took the trip you were talking about and had a pleasant time. I will have to buy an overcoat. Some one needed mine and I forgot to bring it back. I received two letters from mother and one from father since I commenced this. I am in hopes to get about a dozen from you any day now. I mailed you a few things off the battlefield, you may not like them very well but I could do no better just then. I had a pretty little helmet for Gifford but some one stole it.

One has to sleep in his clothes to be sure of having them. I have the same mess kit only a few days. That seven day leave I found out is only for the dead. As I have never seen a live man who gets it. Day after tomorrow will make one year since we started to Denver. I wish we could take the trip again. You probably know about where we are now by the fights that you read about. Altho I can't tell you, you can have a good idea about it. I have seen much devastation and destruction in the last eight months. I don't know what I would do if I should happen to get to a town that was not torn up. The Boches burn up everything that they can when they retreat. Some times we go too fast for them. But they turn their big guns back on the town and try to destroy every thing if they don't burn it up. Had a moving picture taken today maybe you can see it some time. We are some big distance as we move about when we are needed. I think we are about due for a move in a few days. I will close now and try to get this mailed tomorrow.

Love and everything good,
W. E. T.

Text of Supreme Court Opinion in Orear Case

Docket No. 12118—Agenda 21—June, 1918.

Sallie Browning Orear vs. The Farmers State Bank and Trust Company et al Defendants in Error.—(Julian P. Lippincott, Ext. et al Plaintiffs in Error.)

Mr. Justice Stone delivered the opinion of the court:

The complainant on April 1, 1915, filed her bill in equity in the circuit court of Morgan county for the partition of certain described real estate. The bill avers complainant and her brother, D. Rees Browning, years ago entered into an equal co-partnership agreement for the conduct of their business and financial affairs, whereby it was mutually agreed that they should each contribute into a common fund a sum of money then agreed upon and should thereafter both devote their time and business abilities to the conduct and management of the partnership affairs; that said capital contributed and all profits and accumulations made by them should be owned by them as equal partners; that pursuant to said co-partnership agreement they both contributed the amount of money agreed upon and for many years devoted all their time, services and ability to the conduct of the various partnership affairs, business and business ventures and to the accumulation of money and property for the advantage and benefit of the co-partnership; that they were fairly successful in the co-partnership business and accumulated sums of money which were from time to time by mutual agreement invested by D. Rees Browning for the mutual benefit of the co-partnership; that the money so accumulated, was invested in the real estate described in the bill; that the conveyance of said real estate was made by Edward W. Brown and Ruth S. Brown, his wife, to D. Rees Browning; that the purchase price was paid with partnership funds of the co-partnership; that the legal title thereto was conveyed to D. Rees Browning by mutual agreement of the partners, to be held for the equal benefit of the co-partnership; that that the equitable and beneficial interest in said real estate vested in D. Rees Browning and complainant as equal partners; that D. Rees Browning and complainant never had any accounting during the lifetime of the former; that D. Rees Browning died May 23, 1914, leaving a last will and testament duly proved and admitted to record, and the Farmers State Bank and Trust Company of Jacksonville, Illinois, was the duly appointed and qualified executor of his last will and testament; that the complainant and the Farmers State Bank and Trust Company, as executor and trustee, are seized of all of the real estate described in said bill in fee simple, as tenants in common, each of an undivided one-half part; that complainant is seized in her own right and the Farmers State Bank and Trust Company is seized in trust for the uses and purposes set out in said will. The prayer of the bill is for division and partition according to their respective rights and interests, if such can be made without injury or prejudice, otherwise for sale.

The answer of the defendants admits the death of D. Rees Browning and the qualification of the executor but denies the material allegations of the bill. It alleges that D. Rees Browning purchased the land described in the bill with his own money and that no part of the land described in the bill was purchased with the money of the complainant; that the complainant is not the owner or interested in any portion of said land; that by the law in relation to frauds and perjuries the complainant is barred from the relief prayed for in her bill, and that she accepted an annuity under the will of her brother and is now estopped to make the claim she sets forth in her bill.

The cause came on before the chancellor on the master's report of the evidence and his conclusions of law and objections to the same, which were ordered to stand as exceptions to said report. The exceptions of the defendants to the master's report were sustained by the chancellor and a decree dismissing the bill for want of equity was entered.

Since the decree was filed in the lower court the complainant, Sallie Browning Orear, died. Her death has been suggested, and her surviving husband and the executor of her last will and testament have brought the cause up to this court by writ of error. The evidence offered before the master in support of the complainant's bill was to the effect that D. Rees Browning came to Jacksonville, Illinois, from Kentucky about the year 1873. Later his brother, Marcus E. Browning, Jr., joined him. Rees obtained a position in a bank in Jacksonville and Marcus at first clerked in a store. Thereafter their father, mother, complainant and two aunts settled near by. The family was in poor circumstances except the two aunts, each of whom had a few thousand dollars. While Rees worked in the bank, his brother, Marcus, ran a small farm, garden and dairy. Sallie Browning Orear, the complainant, kept the house in which all lived as one family, sometimes delivered milk and also did some of the hard work in the truck farm and garden. While in Kentucky the family was not in very strong financial circumstances and the father was considerably embarrassed financially. His son Rees saved from his wages several hundred dollars which he sent to his father to aid him in paying off some of his indebtedness. After the family arrived in Illinois they occupied what was called the Adams place. They were frugal and industrious. Shortly afterwards they moved to the Hitt place. Rees still worked in the bank but lived with the family. Whatever they were able to accumulate was deposited in the bank in the name of Marcus, and when any considerable account had accumulated in his account it was transferred to the account of Rees until about 1887. In the aggregate these sums were not large. About 1887 the Wiswell place was purchased and the title taken in the name of Marcus. The notes were signed by the two brothers and the two aunts but not by Sallie Browning. Some two years after the purchase of the Wiswell place a piece of land adjoining was purchased and the title taken in the name of Marcus. The affairs of the family as well as the business of the two aunts were managed by Rees. He was the dominant spirit and factor of the entire family, and he managed well and skillfully and made considerable money. Marcus died subsequently to the two aunts with the title of the two tracts of land in his name. The mother was still alive. She and Sallie Browning conveyed their interests in said lands to Rees, who made a trade of all the lands he possessed for the farm he owned at the time of his death, subject to certain indebtedness. In 1895 the bank with which Rees was associated failed. He had a claim against Dr. Brown in the form of a note for something like $11,000 and one of his aunts had a claim for $7,000 which she assigned to Rees. We are unable to determine exactly the source of the $11,000. Rees was the legal representative of the estate of each of the aunts, now deceased, and made final settlement in each estate. It is fair to presume from all the evidence in the case that a considerable portion of this money came from those estates. Each aunt left a will, leaving her property to Rees, Marcus and Sallie, share and share alike, upon the death of the aunt surviving. Altho receipts were filed in final settlements of the said estates, it is evident that the assets were retained by Rees and subject to his control and management. In fact he admitted such to be true in his written statement left with Frank J. Heintz in 1913 or 1914 and found after his death in an envelope addressed to Heintz in the safety deposit box of the Farmers State Bank. In this statement Rees attempts to account for such funds by showing property set over to the complainant amounting to over $23,000 which he states is more than equal to complainant's share of said estates. Rees never made an accounting of the family funds held by him, nor did he ever take a receipt in full satisfaction from the complainant for the properties claimed to have been set over to her as part of said estates.

We have examined the abstract of record as well as the additional abstract with considerable care and find no evidence showing or tending to show a mutual agreement for a co-partnership whereby complainant and D. Rees Browning each contributed into a common fund a sum of money then agreed upon and were thereafter both to devote their time and business abilities to the conduct and management of the partnership affairs, as alleged in the bill of complaint, nor does complainant indicate where such proof may be found in the record. Such an agreement cannot be inferred or implied from the transactions set forth in the record. Nor are we able to find any evidence establishing a partnership fund out of which the real estate in question was purchased.

Plaintiffs in error in this court claim that the foregoing facts produced in evidence establish a resulting trust. Without passing on this question it is sufficient to note that the complainant's bill does not set out facts showing or tending to show a resulting trust nor does said bill seek to establish a resulting trust. The bill is likewise defective in its failure to declare a tenancy in common in fee simple and prays for partition, and if that cannot be done, for commissioners, etc.

This court has held that a complainant must recover, if at all, on the case made by his bill. He is not permitted to state one case in his bill and establish another and different case by his proof. (McKay vs. Bissett, 5 Ill. 439; Reed vs. Reed, 135 Ill. 482; Lang vs. Metzger, 236 Ill. 475.) In Lang vs. Metzger this court said: "It is a fundamental rule of equity pleading that the allegations of a bill of proof and the decree must correspond, and that the decree cannot give relief that facts disclosed by the evidence would warrant where there are no averments in the bill to which the evidence can apply and that if the evidence disproves the case made by the bill the complainant cannot be given a decree upon other grounds disclosed by the proof, unless the court permits the complainant to amend his bill so as to present the case disclosed by the evidence. * * * This rule is not only based upon necessity but upon the soundest reasons of equity. The requirement for written pleadings is that the defendant shall know the particular matter he is to answer and that the complainant shall know the particular answer made to the complaint. To allow a complainant in his bill to state one cause of action and obtain a decree upon another cause of action not stated in his bill, by merely making proof supporting such decree, would work great injustice."

For the foregoing reasons the decree of the circuit court dismissing the bill for want of equity will be affirmed.

Decree affirmed.

A NEWSPAPER FROM FRANCE.

Mrs. Lucy Talbot has placed the Journal under obligations for the loan of a copy of the "Stars and Stripes", a paper edited and published by and for the men at the front. It is full of good things from one end to the other. A few are presented in condensed form.

A new kind of bomb proved very effective the use of its is not to be generally commended.

A unit of allied engineers were moving a quantity of supplies when a company of Huns appeared and things had to be gotten away in a hurry.

At a critical moment a locomotive jumped the track. The engineer, George Robertson, seeing its capture was inevitable closed the feed door, turned on a good stream of oil on the fire and fled and as sixty Germans were standing about the machine the boiler burst, as was intended and the bystanders were scattered piece meal all about.

Some suspicious looking men carrying what was meant to be taken for a corpse were the insignia of the Red Cross. An allied officer saw fit to investigate and discovered the innocent looking men to be German soldiers and their "corpse" was a machine gun.

Thomas A. Edison's son William L. has enlisted as a private in the tank corps at Fort Stocum for preliminary training. At 19 he enlisted as a private in the U. S. Engineer, Spanish-American war and saw service in Porto Rico.

A pathetic story is told of Albert E. Scott of Brookline, Mass. He managed after several efforts to enter the army at the tender age of fifteen and went right thru the hardest work and drudgery without a murmur.

When they came around to a structure the men in handling a machine gun they boy made such wonderful progress and showed such proficiency that he was put in charge of one. He was the pet of the company, but never asked any favors on that account.

One day he was handling his gun when a bursting shell landed on him, his gun and helpers in the machine gun covered them with dirt. Scrambling out from the debris he found his precious gun had not been injured and managed to climb out and get it in place and go to work again at the Boches.

He was perfectly cool in times of great danger with shells bursting all about him. His company were known as the Indians from the fearful whoops they gave when going into battle. One day his regiment received the longest for order to move forward and get into the conflict. His company was composed mostly of devout Roman Catholics and were looped about the left shoulder strap of their blouses a rosary.

As the fight went on "Scotty's" gun did fine execution and won point after point. As a cross road the commanding lieutenant saw a column of Boches coming and arranged his men accordingly.

Down a path the officer pointed to "Scotty" and told him that was his target and not a German must cross it. The lad trained his gun on the place and before night thirty Germans had dropped before his accurate aim.

Then with true German duplicity, a crowd of Boches showed up and cried, don't shoot us; we're Americans. "Scotty" raised up to see them and a sniper ended his life.

AERIAL MAIL SERVICE DELAYED

CHICAGO, Oct. 22.—The Chicago-New York Aerial Mail Service, which was scheduled to start November 1, will be delayed one month because $15,000 required for the building of a hangar in Chicago has not been raised. A chamber of commerce committee has undertaken the raising of this fund.

"What has already been done is an earnest endeavor of what will be accomplished in the future when all the large cities of the North American continent are linked together by the great airships of the aero mail service, Postmaster Carlisle of Chicago said today. "It is only a question of time when the air mail will connect the old and new hemisphere in its daily flights. My hope is that in a short time all the principal cities will be provided with the necessary facilities for carrying on the latest and greatest development of the postal service."

Clover Seed Again

Inquiries are coming from other counties for clover seed. These inquiries have been answered by stating that the clover seed in the hands of the farmers is held at from $18 to $20 per bushel. If you care to re-clean it, you will not have any difficulty in getting the top price.

Getting a Stand of Clover

The addition of either limestone, rock phosphate, or manure helps in getting a stand of clover. The limestone corrects the acidity and adds the plant food calcium; the phosphate corrects the acidity to some extent and adds the plant food phosphorus; and a good coat of manure furnishes a stock of available plant food and helps the clover to overcome the handicap furnished by an acid soil.

Limestone as a Top Dressing for Wheat

Limestone used as a top dressing for wheat gives nearly the same results as when worked into the soil before seeding. When wheat is harvested in the spring, the limestone is mixed fairly well with the surface soil.

AN INTERESTING BOOK

Early Manual of the City of New York. Given the Journal by S. M. Metcalf.

Samuel M. Metcalf of South Main street has placed the Journal under many obligations by the gift of a book entitled, "Manual of Common Council of New York for 1859." There is so much in it of interest that anything like a resume of its attractions would fill a page of the paper. At the time it was prepared the city had a population of 629,810, a gain of 258,587 since 1845. There are numerous illustrations, some a page in size and some several times that much. One is interesting. It is labeled a squatter settlement between first and second avenues near 38th street. It shows a collection of wretched hovels with goats, pigs and the like conspicuous. What would have been the outcome if one had bought a few squares then and held them for a rise? In the early days of Chicago a young attorney, David Davis, had a claim for some Chicago lots and his clients criticized him so severely that he took the property off their hands. It was near the site of the north side water works and the owner died worth four millions.

Among imposing buildings are Trinity and Grace churches, North Dutch church, Bay Hotel near the Battery; the old time circular building where immigrants used to land, business houses on State street and several other thoroughfares and other structures, grand in their newness now look quaint and old fashioned.

An interesting document is a facsimile of a proclamation by James II in the fourth years of his reign, 1688, warning people against an invasion by the Dutch and summoning them to make all preparations for resistance.

Some interesting features are list of omnibus lines, second hand dealers licensed, results of various elections, several maps showing old time boundaries and the like, lists of various city, state and national officials, various societies. The values of city property are notable. The figures given below are, first, value of real estate and second, personal: 1826, $64,804,050, $42,434,981, total $107,238,931; 1836, $233,732,303, $75,758,617, total $309,500,920; 1846, $181,480,354, $61,471,470, total $244,952,004; 1852, $253,278,384, $98,490,042, total $351,768,426; 1856, $340,972,098, $170,744,393, total $511,740,491; 1858, $348,346,296, $163,847,994, total $512,194,290; 1859, $368,346,296, $162,847,994, total $531,194,290. The taxes raised the last year were $8,621,091.31.

Some interesting illustrations are diagrams of city council rooms and seats of aldermen; Old Bridewell in 1834; old houses southeast corner Beekman and Williams streets; facsimiles of money; North Battery, 1820; Broadway, 1834; old houses on Franklin street; institutions for blind, deaf and dumb, orphans, juvenile delinquents, insane; Pearl and other streets. From one end to the other the book is filled with interesting things.

GERMAN SOLDIERS TOLD TO BE SILENT

New Instructions Issued to German Soldiers Reminds Them Silence Is Best Policy When Taken Prisoner—Is Valuable Asset of Military Information.

With the American Forces in France, Oct. — (Correspondence of The Associated Press.)—Since the Americans took part in the offensive of July 18 new instructions have been issued to the German soldiers reminding them that silence is the best policy when taken prisoner.

"Keep silent, know nothing and shrug your shoulders," suggests the German instructions.

A copy of the German communication recently came into the hands of American officers. It says in part:

"The new prisoner is a valuable possession in the hands of the enemy. In him lie possibilities that may mean much more than bare facts concerning battalions and regiments. From the highest commander to the lowest wagon driver, every one of us carries with him remembrances, observations, overheard discussions, or the greetings of neighboring troops.

"Combining all these things, they become a valuable asset of military information. One very seldom realizes how much one really does know. One thinks little of it. But the enemy knows better. It may begin with friendly and pleasant greetings, with coffee or cigarettes; it ends with a sarcastic smile, with short rations and solitary confinement.

"The last few weeks have brought us fresh and painful evidence showing how easily the German soldier, the moment he drops his arms, succumbs to the false impression given by the words 'for me, the war is over.' He has done his duty on the battlefield with rifle and grenade until fate grew stronger than he, and he becomes a prisoner with the idea: 'I have done my duty; now I am defenseless and captured, no longer a warrior, it no longer depends upon me.

"We have examples in which the opponent, while talking with unsuspecting German prisoners successfully drew from them a German order of battle and attack down to the smallest detail. One stone upon another; what the one did not know the other would tell. It is quite possible that they did not know what important information they were giving when they would say:

"Last evening several artillery men came into our trench and the battery went into position about 200 meters behind our trench. This afternoon we were to draw three days' iron ration."

"They had forgotten that the war is not over for them, but they beginning. Following the war of rifle and grenade, follows the war of words, questions and conversations. Each word that seems harmless enough in itself becomes an enemy's weapon bringing death to hundreds of comrades.

"No! Becoming a prisoner does not end the war. It continues with more dangerous and subtle weapons. Against these, we have, we have only one protective measure: Silence. Assume with pride and common sense no one can take this from you, least of all you should be unfortunate enough to be taken prisoner. Keep silent, know nothing and shrug your shoulders."

GOOD ROADS

W. H. Holsteen of Burlington, Iowa, arrived in the city yesterday. He is secretary of the Automobile club and field secretary of the famous Burlington Way. He left Chicago some days ago and has been touring the state in the interest of the coming bond vote and says, strange to relate, he finds opposition to the measure among the farming community. They will be the ones benefited and should be most for it and may become acquainted with the real issues before election time the day is near at hand.

At one o'clock today at the Dunlap House there is to be a gathering of the clans in favor of good roads. J. G. Reintjes, Granite City, president; H. C. Wilhite, Greenfield, secretary; W. H. Holsteen, vice president; Edward White, Springfield, chief engineer; Frank Sweet of Springfield and others are expected and a fine impetus to the good cause is anticipated. The attitude of the Journal on the subject of good roads is well known and the earnest hope is that this meeting and any others will aid in producing the good result so desired at the election.

Let Us Talk About Underwear

We have underwear like you have always worn, made of fine combed yarns, of extra heavy weight and not the light, cheaply made stuff like you can find in the market now.

A little forethought a year ago caused us to strengthen our stock. Therefore we have a complete stock of good old numbers at very reasonable prices. Two-piece and union suits. We invite you to call for inspection.

IMPRESSIONS OF THE SOUTH.

Lloyd Reid, the well known dry goods merchant, who has returned from a visit with his brother Homer in a camp in Tennessee, took occasion to look about a little while in the south. He found matters generally prosperous and people with money, owing largely to the cotton crop and high prices for it. He went down into Arkansas and was impressed with the great possibilities of that state with Northern thrift and capital to make it go. Among other things rice has come to be much cultivated down there and is said to be a very profitable crop when handled under proper conditions—demanding intelligence and energy. He feels there is much in store for that part of the country if it can attract capital and people to use it.

W. L. GRILSSAEE DEAD AT BLOOMINGTON HOME

Former Resident Passed Away
After Two Months' Illness.

News was received here Tuesday of the death of William L. Grassy which occurred at his home in Bloomington at 4 o'clock Tuesday afternoon. Mr. Grassy had been suffering from a peculiar nervous malady for several years and had been in a serious condition for the last two months. Deceased was the son of Mr. and Mrs. Augustus Grassy and was born in this city 44 years ago. He was educated in the public schools of the city and later entered the employ of Robert Kuehler, druggist. After an apprenticeship there he attended Northwestern University where he graduated as pharmacist.

Upon his return here Mr. Grassy entered the employ of the Williamson drug store which is now the Gilbert pharmacy. After the death of Mr. Williamson Mr. Grassy managed the store for the widow until it was sold to M. E. Gilbert.

He remained in the employ of Mr. Gilbert until about six years ago when he resigned his position. He went to Bloomington where he took a position with the Coblenz drug store where he has since been employed.

Mr. Grassy was united in marriage to Miss Clara Piepenbring of this city, June 28, 1908. His widow and one daughter survive.

He also leaves his mother and one brother, Ernest Grassy, a member of the C. C. Phelps Dry Goods company. He was a member of Jacksonville Lodge No. 12, Knights of Pythias, and was a man who was highly regarded in this his home city. News of his death will be received with regret by his many friends.

The remains will be brought here for burial arriving this evening. The time of the funeral has not been fixed.

SAVE WATER

Water in Morgan Lake is getting very low. Water consumers please do not use a drop of water that is not absolutely necessary.

MR. VASEY EXPLAINS USE OF TERM "GIMMER."

Editor Journal.
In publishing my sale bill I used the term "Gimmer" in describing sheep. No one knew the meaning of it. Some said the word was original with me. For their entertainment you will please publish the enclosed clipping from the Family Herald and Weekly Star, Montreal, Canada, of October 8, 1918.

John Vasey.
Old Country Sheep Terms.
Old country shepherds, and stockmen who visited Britain from time to time, frequently use names and terms in connection with sheep which sound strange indeed to the ears of a young Canadian. Our sheepfold vocabulary is very limited compared to other countries where a large percentage of the stockmen are British born. It is just as well to know and understand these names which are constantly cropping up in conversation and literature.

Old Country names and Terms.
Age, young lamb; male tup, Female, Chivver.
Age, up to one year, male tup, hogget, wedder, teg; Female, Ewe, teg ewe hog, ewe hogget.
Age, up to two years; Male, shearing ram, or hog; Female, Gimmer.
Age, 2 to 3 years; Male, Two-shear or weeder; Female, Gimmer.

Several other expressions are commonly used in connection with sheep: Cast ewes, discards from a flock; shotts tails, sheddings, cull sheep; Crone, an old ewe; Crook, a ewe bred to a ram of another breed; Yeld, a barren ewe, Ris, an imperfectly castrated male.

FUNERAL NOTICES

Funeral services for James Tivnen will be held from O'Donnell's undertaking parlors this morning at 8:30 o'clock.

W. BARR BROWN ON WAR BUILDING

Quotes Some Extracts from Instructions As to the Erection of Buildings.

"Give us first an abundance of munitions and supplies that we may sweep the enemy beyond the Rhine and early lay the foundation for a lasting peace—the most imposing monument than can now, or ever, be erected."

To that end was formed the Non-War Construction Bureau as an active branch of the National and State Councils of Defense, and rulings have been issued from time to time looking to the discontinuance of all but the most essential home work for the duration of the war. Our government needs and must have all available men and material.

Wm. Barr Brown, chairman of the local organization, who has given much time and study to this matter in an endeavor to see that the government's rulings are carried out fairly and impartially, gave the Journal Tuesday the following information which will be of interest:

"New buildings may be erected, in the country, which are necessary, up to an amount of $1,000, without a permit being secured. This ruling also applies to repairs to old buildings in the country, a substantial portion of which are still standing, excepting that the amount that may be expended by the owner is placed at $2500."

"In cities or towns there is no provision for any building work excepting the most minor repairs. There can be no new buildings of any description erected. This applies to garages as well as to other structures."

"Buildings, the substantial part of which were erected prior to Sept. 17 last, may be continued until completed."

Mr. Brown stated also that he knew the residents of Jacksonville and Morgan county would fall readily into line in this respect, as in all others, and would allow none to outstrip us in this method of paying homage to the brave and loyal patriots who now are offering their lives that democracy may live, and that persons contemplating new or repair work of any character at the present time would give it careful consideration.

JOHN PHALEN WRITES FROM FRANCE

The following letter has been received by Mrs. Rose Phalen from her son, John Phalen, somewhere in France:

Dear Mother:
I will try and write you a few lines to inform you I am quite well and feeling fine. My experience in France has been quite a site, the people here are different than at home. They use their cows for horses and wear wooden shoes. We have a Catholic church not far from the camp are going to attend mass this morning. They grow lots of grapes and make wine from them. We have lots of sport with the French money. Our trip across the pond was fine. I enjoyed it very much. How is everyone at home. Give them all my best regards.
